

Where do you stop with the so-called Digital Rights Management?
Will we, in the future, have to purchase a license to view copyrighted material. This is the most assinine proposal ever. If the FCC becomes bedfellows with the entertainment industry, the rights of consumers will be gone forever.